Morrell Probe Queries Guard On Insection

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The adequacy of inspection procedures for Great Lakes vessels remained an issue today in the U.S. Coast Guard hearing on the sinking of the freighter Daniel J. Morrell.

Expected to testify today at the third session of the board of inquiry is Roy Dobson, a dispatcher for Bethlehem Steel Corp.'s fleet, who received radio messages pertaining to the Morrell's last voyage.

Later witnesses are expected to include Dennis Hale of Ash-tabula, Ohio, the lone survivor of the 29 crewmen aboard, and officers and engineers from the Morrell's sister ship, the Townsend.

The Morrell is believed to have broken in two before it went to the bottom of Lake Huron Nov. 20 at the height of the season's worst storm. No distress signal was heard before the disaster.

Doubts about the adequacy of safety inspections were injected into the hearing Tuesday by lawyers representing the families of crewmen.

Five attorneys presented 67 questions to Tuesday's witness, Lynwood C. Harivel, engineer of the Bethlehem fleet. He had testified there was "nothing wrong" with the 60-foot Morrell.

Most of the questions were highly technical and brought out the fact that Harivel was not a metallurgist, and that modern techniques such as audio gauging and X-rays were never used in testing the Morrell's hull and framing.

The Morrell was owned by the Cambria Steamship Co.

Chicago Train Jumps Tracks, Commuter Dies

CHICAGO (AP) — A commuter train jumped tracks and crashed into a building today, killing one person and injuring 20 others.

Another car was left hanging, one on fire and the other rolling on the ground.

The accident occurred near the Chicago Transit Authority station at 41st Street and Indiana Avenue on the South Side.

OTA officials said the cause of the crash has not been determined.

The train was carrying a light passenger load because of the heavy travel on this OTA division runs from the South Side north toward the downtown business district.

Draft Overhaul May Cut Power Of Local Boards

CHICAGO (AP) — A national draft conference is expected to call today for a major overhaul of the nation's Selective Service System — with the emphasis on limiting the authority of local draft boards.

The consensus seemingly emerged after more than four days of wrangling debate on the draft and its alternatives. The conferees made it clear that they agreed, along with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, that the present draft laws are a haze of inequities.

The Massachusetts Democrat told a news conference Tuesday night that revision of the draft will emerge as "one of the most important and significant issues Congress will address itself to in the next few months."

"There is a concern about the country about the draft," Kennedy added. "It is in the forefront in the minds of our young people."

He predicted Congress would act because the present Selective Service laws are not always fair, lack flexibility and have no degree of predictability.

To rectify this, Kennedy suggested that national standards be set up for the nation's more than 4,000 draft boards, making it impossible for one board to reject commercial pilots and another to classify them 1A, an example of inequities that have been reported.

The senator, a leading exponent of a lottery draft system, arrived in Chicago to attend the closing sessions of the conference.

More than 100 scholars, government specialists and students have convened to discuss the draft — which has been a focus of rising concern since the United States began increasing its involvement in Viet Nam in 1964. About 600,000 men have been drafted in the past two years.

The conferees listened Tuesday to at least four proposals for national service, including anthropologist Margaret Mead's suggestion that everybody — women, too — be asked to perform some national duty.

Her proposal was bluntly criticized by other delegates, some of whom described it as just another form of coercion because young men would be faced either with the draft or with compulsory national service.

Youth, 18, Yields Slain Girl's Car

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — "It ain't mine," police said today as a young hospital employee told them he surrendered an automobile belonging to a teen-ager slaying victim.

The youth, Charles Roister, 18, Indianapolis, stopped two policemen Tuesday and said he found the car on a street here, authorities reported.

The 1965 model car had been the object of a nationwide search since the body of attractive Eileen Marie Alex, 19, Alton Park, Mich., was found near a lonely road 10 miles south of South Bend Nov. 18.

She had been shot twice in the back of the head.

Patrolmen William N. Larkings and Phillip C. Parker said Roister told them he decided to give up the car after reading a newspaper story of the search for it. He said he had found Miss Alex' name in the car. Meanwhile, Michigan authorities said they had nothing to link the Alex girl's slaying with the strangling of Mrs. Janet Stewart, 22, Dearborn Heights, Mich., whose body was found Nov. 26 in a creek bed near Dry Ridge, Ky.

The FBI moved into the case Tuesday. The FBI's Detroit office said it would check to see if any federal law had been violated.

Two men, identified as Robert Lee Gawn, 27, formerly of the Detroit area, and Thomas Banks, 23, with no known address, were being sought for questioning in the Stewart slaying.

They were last seen driving a yellow Mustang, reported to be the one driven by Mrs. Stewart at the time of her disappearance, near Baggs, Wyo., Sunday.

Africa Nations Ask Tough UN Rhodesia Stand

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — African members of the United Nations sought support today to pressure the Security Council into slapping a total economic boycott on Rhodesia.

The African clamor rose as British Foreign Secretary George Brown arrived in New York to put a "soft" draft resolution before the council Thursday asking selective mandatory sanctions against the rebellious central African colony. The chief target would be Rhodesian exports.

British sources said Brown was empowered, if pressed, to include a limited embargo on export of oil to Rhodesia. But South Africa, Rhodesia's chief source of oil, has already said it would continue normal trade with its northern neighbor.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government turned to the Security Council after a last-ditch settlement was rejected Monday by the Rhodesian government.

The African bloc scheduled a meeting late today to map strategy for a new drive against the white minority government of Rhodesia Prime Minister Ian Smith. Smith's regime seized independence 13 months ago rather than agree to British demands for guarantees of eventual majority rule for Rhodesia's 4 million Africans. The colony has 225,000 whites.

Although extremists in the African group want to extend the proposed boycott to include South Africa, one African delegate expressed doubt the majority of the 15-nation council would approve this.

Russian ICBM Estimate Off, McNamara Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says U.S. intelligence experts underestimated the number of ocean-spanning missiles the Soviet Union will have in place by mid-1968.

But he says U.S. estimates of the number of long-range missiles now deployed by the Soviets are "remarkably accurate."

He added that the error in assessing Moscow's missile-production plans has "no basic impact" on U.S. offensive requirements.

Viet Nam War Need Is $9 Billion More

Retired Admiral Kimmel Claims He Got 'Bum Rap' In Pearl Harbor Defeat

From state capitals to college campuses, in churches, and on highways, millions of Americans remembered Pearl Harbor today on the 25th anniversary of the Japanese attack that brought the United States into World War II. Some of the observances took note of the Viet Nam war.

For some individuals, such as Husband E. Kimmel, the 84-year-old retired admiral who says he was blamed for America's worst naval defeat, the remembrance of Dec. 7, 1941, stirred up bitter memories.

That day a quarter of a century ago also left some footnotes to history: on the evening of the Pearl Harbor attack, Eleanor Roosevelt calmly scrambled eggs for guests at the White House, according to a journal among the manuscripts the Library of Congress in Washington put on exhibit to commemorate the 25th anniversary.

Hundreds of men who knew the horror of that December 7, a date which President Franklin D. Roosevelt said "will live in infamy," gathered in Pearl Harbor for the main commemorative ceremonies.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York ordered flags on all state buildings lowered to half staff this morning, then raised to full at noon "to remind us that we will always, with the grace of God, achieve final victory."

Other expressions commemorating Pearl Harbor were being held at Dubuque, Iowa; Carlsbad and Albuquerque, N. M.; Groton, Conn.; Logan, Utah and many other sites in the nation.

In an interview on the eve of the Pearl Harbor anniversary, Kimmel said at his Groton, Conn., ranch house that his being blamed for the naval defeat is "a bum rap."

"My principal occupation — what's kept me alive — is to expose the entire Pearl Harbor affair," said Kimmel, who on Dec. 7, 1941, was the No. 2 Navy man in America. He was the

Reuther Wants Militant Labor

DETROIT (AP) — The current friction between Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union, and George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, is the result of Reuther's attempt to "show the way" to greater militancy in the AFL-CIO, a UAW source said Tuesday.

The source—who asked not to be named—said Reuther has no intentions of severing relations between the UAW and the AFL-CIO.

Reuther wants to eliminate differences he sees between the AFL-CIO and the UAW in collective bargaining and political action and to bring the AFL-CIO around to the UAW's more militant position in those areas, the source said.

Reuther recently engaged in a public quarrel with Meany over AFL-CIO foreign policy. Reuther contended that AFL-CIO actions undermined President Johnson's efforts to ease tensions with the Communist world.

commander of the combined U.S. and Pacific fleets.

Made Seaport Kimmel was relieved of command 10 days after Japan knocked out 18 ships and killed 3,435 Americans, and in three months he was retired.

"They made me the scapegoat," he said. "They wanted to get the United States into the war."

Asked who he meant by "they," Kimmel replied: "That was President Roosevelt and Gen. George Marshall and others in the Washington high command. FDR was the architect of the whole business. He gave orders — and I can't prove this categorically — that no word about Japanese fleet movements was to be sent to Pearl Harbor except by Marshall and then: 'He told Marshall not to send anything.'"

Kimmel, white-haired and alert, 84, said: "God willing, within the next year, you'll see a couple of books published exposing the whole rotten mess."

State Body Delays Travel Pay Boosts

LANSING (AP) — The State Administrative Board Tuesday postponed action on a proposed 10 per cent boost in travel allowances for state employees pending discussion of availability of funds.

Gov. George Romney told the board he would "be opposed to increases until we see there is revenue available to support these built-in and other expenditure increases we face."

The Department of Administration's proposed increases had been approved by the board's Finance and Claims Committee and submitted to the full board.

The proposal would boost mileage, meal and lodging allowances for state employees traveling on official business and are expected to add about $252,000 a year to state employee travel costs.

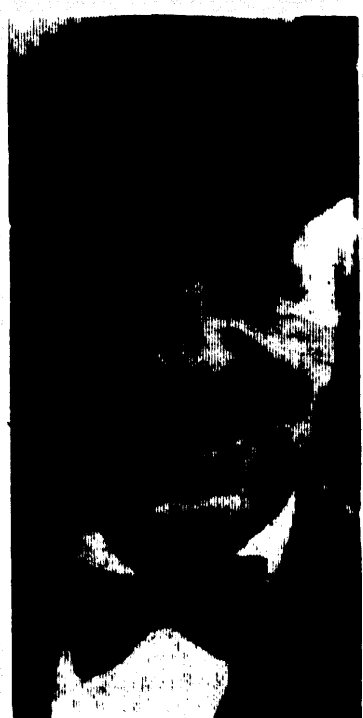

The revisions would take effect July 1, 1967, and would include boosts in the total daily maximum for in-state meals and lodging from the present $13.75 to $16.25.

Expenses for in-state lodging would be raised from $3 to $10. Allowances for breakfast would go from $1.15 to $1.25, lunch from $1.35 to $1.50 and dinner from $2.25 to $2.50.

Out of state travel per diem allowance would be raised from $20 to $24 in cities of more than $500,000 population and from $16 to $18 elsewhere out of state.

The proposal recommended private car mileage allowances be figured at 9 cents a mile except that an employee using his own car when a state car is available would receive 6 cents a mile. The state now has a sliding scale of 5 to 9 cents a mile, depending on the amount of travel.

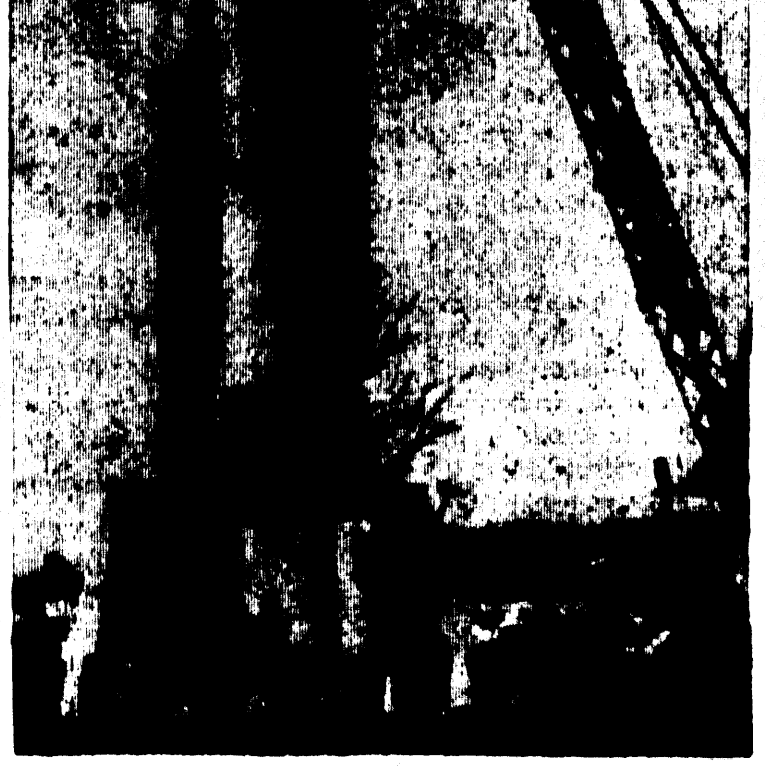

People might get the wrong impression, he asserted.

Although Treasury and Budget Bureau officials earlier had recommended announcement of a tax decision by about Dec. 10, the chief executive gave no indication he'll tip his hand that soon.

Actually, the question has been up in the air for nearly 10 months.

Adequate, Equitable Tax Base Needed

Romney Predicts Deficit Next Year

LANSING (AP) — Republican Gov. George Romney told the departing Democratic Legislature today his two-year record has been "impressive, but incomplete."

In a special message to members of the 1965-66 Legislature, which met today for an expected brief adjournment session, Romney said the lawmakers' record is "incomplete in the sense that it creates serious problems for the new Legislature which will be convened next month."

What he meant, Romney said, is that the Legislature enacted new programs without providing what he termed "an adequate and equitable tax base" to finance them.

In fiscal 1967-68, the governor said, projected revenue of $645 million will be added to a beginning surplus of $75 million for a total of $720 million.

Stand Still Budget He predicted a standstill budget, which "includes no new programs or any enrichment of present programs," would cost $1,107 billion and cause a deficit of $387 million.

added, because an accelerated mental health program and the state's new "Medicaid" program may be costing more than has been appropriated for them.

"These projections, as I have indicated, assume no new programs at all," Romney said. "They do not include the $11.5 million increase in state salaries recently approved by the Legislature. They do not allow for increases in school aid or college salary increases for colleges and universities. They allow for no increase in state funds to halt water pollution."

"They provide no additional assistance to local governments. They allow nothing further for improvements in mental health

Tom Swift Sr. Taken By Death

Thomas Swift Sr., 62, well known Bark River businessman died at 6 p. m. Tuesday at St. Francis Hospital following a lengthy illness.

Born July 16, 1904 in Kenosha, Wis., he attended St. James grade school and graduated from Kenosha High School.

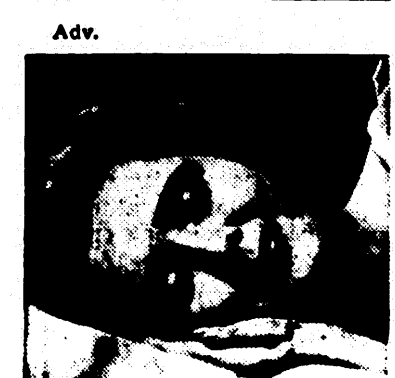

Mr. Swift was a partner in his father's plumbing business before coming to Escanaba in 1939 as manager of the cocktail lounge at the Sherman Hotel. In 1942 he purchased the Peter Blake tavern in Bark River which is now operated as a restaurant and tavern.

He was a member of St. George Church, the Highland Golf Club, Elks Club, charter member of the Bark River Lions Club and had been an active sportsman.

Surviving are his widow, the former Olga Bell, one son, Thomas Swift Jr. of Escanaba; one daughter, Mrs. John (Patricia) Pedoush of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; two brothers, Frank of Greenville, Mich. and John of Kenosha; four grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Friends may call at the Boyle Funeral Home Chapel in Bark River from 3 to 9:30 p. m. Thursday and parish prayers will be recited at 9 p. m. Thursday. A solemn requiem high mass will be celebrated at 10 a. m. Friday at St. George's Church with Rev. Thomas Dunleavy officiating and the body will be removed to the Bark River Cemetery receiving vault.

Calendars began to flourish as an advertising medium late in the 19th century.

Relief for night-
backache lets you sleep again

Sometimes backache comes like a thief in the night, "steals" away your sleep, then robs you of energy all the next day. When the cause is overwork or just the daily strain of exertion or tension, that's the time to try Doan's Pills for speedy relief. Millions have found Doan's pain-relieving action often brings welcome relief from this nagging night-backache, headache or muscular pain in the night.

Then, too, unwise eating or drinking may be the cause of minor yet annoying bladder irritation. Doan's Pills often help to bring prompt relief in two ways: first, their soothing effect on bladder irritation. And, second, their mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

Keep Doan's Pills handy. Millions have relied on Doan's for over sixty years. And for your convenience, get the large size.

In The Rock Area It's

Xmas Pin Money Off Trees

By MRS. ALBERT WELDUM
ROCK—Bough or "brush" cutting was going strong around the Rock area since the last of September, but since the snow storm it seems all the "Brush Jills" have been busy keeping the home fires burning.

By the first of December the bough cutting usually has tapered off to be a demand earlier in the season and more boughs were needed. The price has been better, between $35 and $40 a ton for balsam boughs. There has also been a market for some cedar and hemlock boughs.

At All Farms

Boughs are clipped from the lower branches of trees, or the men cut down big trees for pulp and the women cut off the branches for boughs. Women are the ones who usually cut the boughs. If they cannot go out into the woods themselves because of small children, they will baby sit or take turns babysitting with others who have small children, so everyone gets to make a little pin money for Christmas.

Most every farm has some boughs cut and piled by the house earlier in the season. Some have their brush sold before it is cut, others cut it and take a chance on being able to sell it. Henry Jokela and Jack Larson had their own contracts for brush sold in Milwaukee or Chicago. The Westlunds bought boughs and shipped them to points south.

Buy Roping Machines

There was something new added this year. The Waino Bakka family of West Rock used to ship boughs to points south or Lower Michigan. After doing this for years, they came to the conclusion that it would be more profitable for them and the community if they took full advantage of our natural resources. Instead of shipping the boughs downstate to be made into garlands, why couldn't

MRS. WAINO BAKKA is pictured making garlands on a machine at Rock. The boughs are placed in a trough and twine revolves around them and a wire core, making a "rope" of greens used for decoration for the holidays on streets and other places. As it is made the "rope" is coiled into 25-pound, 50-foot coil. (Mrs. Albert Weldum Photo) they be made into garlands right here?

They purchased three roping machines from the Hukonen Brothers at Kaleva, Mich., whom they used to sell boughs to, and started making their own garlands or "ropes". The boughs were cut by the family from the lower branches of trees. The fine flat needle boughs make the best roping.

Roping is made in about 50 foot coils, unless special orders are requested. The coils have a wire or twine core. Wire is recommended for street hanging, otherwise, twine core is sufficient. Each coil weighs about 25 pounds. They have received more orders than they were able to fill this year. They have roping locally to Marquette, while some has been shipped to Lower Michigan or other points south.

The Bakkas have done all the work themselves this year as hiring anyone would involve a lot of insurance and bookwork, handicapping a small business. They hope to expand next year and so far business seems to have been promising enough to the point where they might buy boughs for making garlands, thus helping the community in using our own natural resources.

Operate Tree Lot

The making of wreaths would be a profitable business also, the Bakkas say. In making wreaths, small branches which now have to be discarded can be used. They feel our forest resources should not be wasted, but used to the best advantage.

Though the bough activities have tapered off, the Christmas tree activity is still going strong. The community of Rock provides many trees and boughs for the holiday season. The Westlunds have left for Chicago for their annual venture of selling trees on a lot. The father and son team cut trees from their own plantation, as well as buy native trees.

Other fellows active in cutting trees include, Floyd Osterberg, who cuts cultured and sheared trees and ships them to points south, filling special orders. Henry Jokela sold trees to John Phillips of Chicago, John Reuther of Chicago purchased a truckload of big trees and some of the usual size.

Plantation Tree Sales
John Kaminen has been selling his plantation trees locally for the first time this year. He claims buyers from Escanaba buy early in the season, they want good trees, but will pay a little more than outside buyers. By selling locally, he does not have to tie or ship trees.

Ivar Mattila has been selling his plantation trees locally also to the Gwinn area. John Jokela sold plantation trees this year, and Orval Small of Eagle River, Wis., bought trees from Kimberly Clark plantation. Many other individuals cut a few trees off their farms or wooded area.

Fellows in the bough and tree business feel that the artificial tree, that seemed so popular a few years back, will never endanger the real tree market.

"Nothing can replace a real live tree, especially if it comes from the Upper Peninsula of Michigan," they say.

Citizens Group Meeting Called

The role of the Escanaba Citizens Participation Committee in planning for community development will be explained at a meeting of the Committee to be held at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the City Hall.

The meeting will be for the purpose of organization and will be attended by members of the City Council. The Council appointed the Committee and in discussion at a recent session indicated it wanted the Committee to make advisory reports directly to the Council.

An executive committee of the Citizens group, plus a number of sub-committees was suggested. The Citizens Participation Committee is part of the organization required of the community as it proceeds in planning under the federal assistance program.

Present also for the Thursday night meeting will be Dave Kennedy, representing Harland Bartholomew & Associates, the planning firm retained by the city.

Kennedy is scheduled to meet Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock with the Escanaba Planning Commission and in the evening with the Citizens Committee.

Area School Board Lets Final Bond Issue Jobs

The Escanaba Area Board of Education completed bidding of the $1.45 million elementary school construction bond issue Tuesday with awarding of $335,974 in general, mechanical and electrical contracts for the new Washington school and a boiler plant for the junior high school.

The board accepted the low bid of Prokash Construction Co., Iron River, for the general contract in the amount of $205,000. Berger & Robinson, Escanaba, was awarded the mechanical contract for $108,500, and Rapid Electric, Rapid River, submitted low bid of $22,474 for the electric contract.

The Washington School and boiler plant building were bid jointly.

Supt. Luther M. Barrett said completion time would be 300 calendar days. Boiler Plant construction can start immediately, with work on the Washington school scheduled to begin about March 1.

The boiler plant must be finished by the time school opens in the fall of 1967.

The Board of Education had budgeted $350,000 from the bond issue for Washington school and boiler plant construction.

Total bids were about $14,000 less than the budgeted figure and with unallocated from other jobs, Barrett said the board hopes to restore some items trimmed from other projects.

Included would be sidewalks at the new Southside and Franklin schools, a different floor tile, painting in storage rooms and cabinets in multipurpose room kitchens.

The board also met in joint session with the City Council Tuesday to "discuss mutual areas of interest," primarily use of school buildings in the city recreation program and also city plans for a new recreation building.

Supt. Luther M. Barrett said no decisions were reached. A wide variety of opinions was offered on the subject by both board members and councilmen, he said.

Compensation Rate Boosted For Loggers

The insurance rate for compensation in the logging industry in Michigan was increased 23 per cent across the board by the Michigan Workmen's Compensation Rating Bureau, reports Lloyd Palmer, secretary of the Michigan-Wisconsin Timber Producers Association, Crandon, Wis.

"This is a bombshell to our industry because our logging insurance rate is real high anyway," said Palmer. "This 23 per cent increase is going to have a bad effect on our logging industry."

The rate increase follows action making the Michigan's workmen's compensation laws as applicable to any woods worker employer who has one or more workers. Previously it was three or more workers, exempting small crews from the coverage.

The increase in compensation insurance for loggers—one of the highest hazard works in American industry—on Dec. 1 was from $19.17 per $100 of payroll to $23.43, reports the Escanaba office of Employers Insurance of Wausau.

The increase is based on the experience in claims against the underwriters, as reviewed by the Workmen's Compensation Rating Bureau.

The insurance industry, the Timber Producers and other organizations have been working for years to teach safety to loggers as the most effective means of reducing the cost of compensation insurance which is now nearly a quarter as much as labor costs in the production of pulpwood, sawlogs, cedar and other woods products.

The insurance industry, the Timber Producers and other organizations have been working for years to teach safety to loggers as the most effective means of reducing the cost of compensation insurance which is now nearly a quarter as much as labor costs in the production of pulpwood, sawlogs, cedar and other woods products.

The rate increase follows action making the Michigan's workmen's compensation laws as applicable to any woods worker employer who has one or more workers. Previously it was three or more workers, exempting small crews from the coverage.

The increase in compensation insurance for loggers—one of the highest hazard works in American industry—on Dec. 1 was from $19.17 per $100 of payroll to $23.43, reports the Escanaba office of Employers Insurance of Wausau.

The increase is based on the experience in claims against the underwriters, as reviewed by the Workmen's Compensation Rating Bureau.

Callup May Hit Gladstone Unit

Capt. George Anderson, commander of Company E, Michigan National Guard, Gladstone, said today that it has as many as 50 men who could be called up for six months active duty in the increased January quota for Michigan units.

Maj. Gen. Clarence C. Schnipke, Lansing, adjutant general of Michigan, announced Tuesday that an estimated 400 Michigan National Guardsmen would be called to active duty in January—a sharp increase from recent monthly quotas.

Quota for December was 120 men, in November it was 60 and in October 54.

"We now have a backlog of 1,500 guardsmen awaiting their active duty assignment," said Schnipke. "By the middle of next year our backlog number should be minimal."

The increase in monthly quotas is the result of a recent Defense Dept. announcement disclosing plans for providing active duty training for approximately 150,000 National Guardsmen and U. S. Army Reservists during the period of January to June, 1967.

Anderson said he had about 50 men, mostly in the 19-20 year old age bracket, who haven't been in for six months training. He said some of the men had been waiting over a year. He indicated, however, that his quota for January might be about 10 men.

Schnipke urged guardsmen and civilian employees to begin making necessary arrangements to hold transitional problems to a minimum.

The word "cracker" is one of those interesting words that came into being because breaking the "biscuit," as crackers were once called, made a cracking sound.

Jobless At 10 Year Low

U.P. Creates 5,200 Jobs

Robert Nathan economists told U.P. in 1963 that the Upper Peninsula could lose 4,350 jobs by 1970 if current trends continued, but that an aggressive development program could create 16,000 new jobs in the same period.

Meeting in 5th anniversary session at The Terrace on Monday U.P. delegates were told by Albert J. Gazvoda of the Michigan Employment Security Commission that 5,200 new jobs were created in the Upper Peninsula in the year ending in October.

And unemployment is at the lowest state in the U. P. in more than 10 years, said Gazvoda.

"I want to congratulate you on your role towards fewer unemployed, fewer facing want, and making possible achievement of higher levels of dignity and comfort for many of our heretofore unfortunate people," said Gazvoda.

From October, 1965 to October 1966 U. P. wage and salary employment rose from 68,000 to 74,000, or 7.6 per cent.

Job Training Grows
In the same period unemployment dropped from 4.7 per cent to 3.7 of the work force.

In this period 897 persons received job training under the Manpower Development and Training Act and Redevelopment Area Residents Program. This number, added to the 1,900 trained previously makes a total of 2,800 persons graduated from the training programs in the U. P. and 86 per cent of those people have found jobs, 63 per cent in training-related occupations.

About 56 per cent remained in the U. P. after training, compared with 32 per cent who found U. P. jobs at the beginning of the training program.

Problem Remains
Gazvoda said that the U. P.'s biggest remaining manpower problem is the persons who lack a full-time, steady job. "They are the hardest to reach, to train and to motivate and we often find them discourag-

"We must better serve:
"1. Workers unskilled and with low educational levels.
"2. The physically handicapped.

Women Need Jobs
"3. Women. After years of discussion of women in economic life it is surprising that large numbers of women workers are unemployed. Employers often don't consider women for jobs even where women have successfully demonstrated their ability elsewhere. Gogebic County has made tremendous improvement in the number of jobs for women, primarily in the 35 to 60 age group.

Since 1963 a total of 300 factory jobs providing year around employment, coupled with 160 seasonal jobs for women in the ski resort areas have provided a decided lift for area economic improvement.

"6. Job Corps for special assistance, particularly for those out of school."

Contributions To Yule Basket Drive Welcomed

Contributions are being received for American Legion Christmas basket program. Local banks are also accepting contributions: John Greene, First National Bank; Elmer Bonifas, Escanaba National Bank; Arthur Arch, State Bank; or gifts can be mailed to American Legion, Christmas Basket Program, Post, Escanaba.

Contributions of any amount will be gratefully received, said Chairman Elmer Olson.

Needy families within the city limits of Escanaba are asked to send a letter or card stating ages and sex of the children in the family.

Requests for baskets should be mailed to C. Elmer Olson, chairman, Christmas Basket Program, 1005 8th Ave. S. or to: Reynold Gustafson, co-chairman, 1711 1st Ave. S., as early as possible.

Baskets must be called for at the Legion Club, 928 N. 21st St., on the morning of Dec. 24.

Miss Vescolani Is Honored For Fitness Efforts

HERMANVILLE—Miss Geraldine Vescolani, supervisor of health, physical education and safety for the Wauwatosa, Wis., public schools, has been given the Wisconsin Jaycees' physical fitness leadership award.

Miss Vescolani is the first woman to receive the award in its four year history.

She was presented with a citation by Gov. Warren Knowles in ceremonies preceding the Green Bay Packers-San Francisco 49ers game. The award is given to the person selected as having done the most to contribute to the State's physical fitness efforts.

Miss Vescolani is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bartolo Vescolani of Hermanville. Her brother, Dr. Fred Vescolani, is a professor at Michigan State University and her brother Americo P. Vescolani is an instructor in the Newberry public schools.

Buck Law Still Has Advocate

Donald Mahoney, 1100 S. 19th St., thinks Conservation Department is mismanaging the deer herd in the Upper Peninsula.

He has hunted deer for 31 years. He hunted in the Hardwood-phelps area in November and didn't get a deer. He had a permit and could have shot a doe, but didn't. He doesn't believe in it.

Mahoney cites an article by George Shiras, III, in the August 1921 National Geographic Magazine for his belief that the present method of herd management is wrong.

Shiras wrote 45 years ago: "The white-tail (deer) is the one big game animal whose perpetuation means more to the sportsmen of the entire country than any other animal."

"The first and foremost necessity is a buck law to protect the females and fawns in every state containing any antlered animal. (Twenty states had such a law in 1921.) When a buck is shot the number for the following year is lessened by only one, whereas he who kills a young doe destroys, by a single shot, potentially 151 bucks and 151 does."

"For it has been shown on a strictly scientific basis and by an accurate mathematical calculation, that a doe and her descendants in a period of 10 years, not counting out the natural casualties, will produce a total of 302 deer, and by the death of this ancestral mother the link is broken, with the irrevocable loss stated."

Shiras became famed as a photographer of wildlife in the Upper Peninsula.

Michigan adopted a buck law and its deer herd grew to such size in the new forests that followed cutting of the virgin stands that it became the No. 1 big game state in the nation.

Its herd has declined since then with less natural feed and even further declines have been forecast. To keep the herd in balance with natural feed the state gives permits for the killing of antlerless deer.

Power Co. Plans U.P. Series Of Christmas Fetes

The Upper Peninsula Power Co. will be host to employees at its traditional Christmas party.

Letters of invitation from John H. Warden, chairman of the board, and Russell F. Hoyer, president, have been mailed to over 350 employees in the Power firm's three divisions and Presque Isle Generating Station at Marquette.

A total of approximately 600 people, including employees, officers, directors, wives, husbands, and others are expected to attend three separate get-togethers in Escanaba, Ishpeming, and Houghton.

Employees in the Escanaba and Iron River areas will be entertained at the Dells Supper Club in Escanaba on Monday, Dec. 12; those from the Ishpeming Marquette, Munising, Gwinn and Republic areas at the Steel Worker's Union Hall in Negaunee in Tuesday, Dec. 13; those from Houghton, Calumet, L'Anse, Ontonagon and Victoria areas at the Elk's Club in Hancock on Tuesday, Dec. 20.

Dinners will be served at 7:30 p.m., followed by a program including the presentation of service awards, singing, entertainment and dancing.

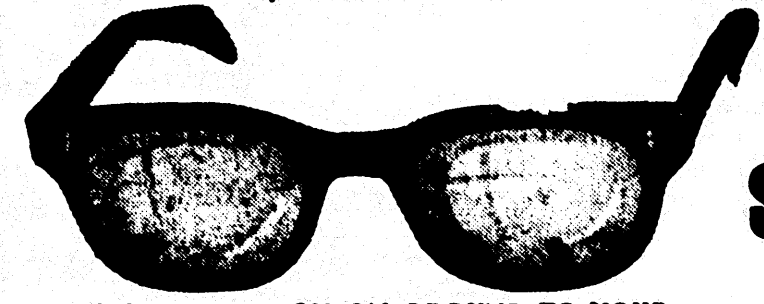

Children of the company employees will be entertained at a separate Christmas party in each of the districts.

Technical Services

Leo Lucchesi of Michigan Tech at Houghton told the 5th anniversary meeting of UPCAP in Escanaba about Tech's bringing of the State Technical Services Act program to the Upper Peninsula. Northern Michigan University at Marquette is also active in the work. All of the state's universities and colleges are cooperating in its presentation.

This was "sleeper" legislation by Congress that didn't attract much attention in the happening, but which is commanding increasing interest. It provides federal funds to be used in bringing the results of scientific research and development to business and industry so that they can be put to work at the practical level of commercial application for the public benefit.

The world — and particularly America — is moving ahead in technical developments so rapidly that it is difficult to keep track of all the new discoveries, to keep the text books updated with them in the schools and libraries, and to get industry to adapt them into its operations and products.

Tech has used STS funds to bring the U. P. new x-ray techniques in the examination of metals, to report the latest developments in iron pellet making in a campus workshop, and to bring U. P. wood industries the new word on personnel, manufacturing and marketing in a series of meetings across the U. P.

The universities are undertaking a new role here as middleman between inventor and applicator. It is, we're sure, the first of a series of steps into our future and the quicker, broader and more efficient relay of discovery into usage. To do this the schools favor getting off campus and into areas where the new ideas can be offered in familiar surroundings to the persons who can put them to use.

Tech used this technique in its Institute of Wood Research series of meetings on management for the U. P. wood industries. There is still a reluctance in some businesses about "going to school" on campus so the Mountain is going to Mohammed.

The situation is one more reminder of the expanding need for education and of the broad usefulness of our institutions of higher learning in helping not only the young with preparation for life, but also with helping adults and industries and other organizations.

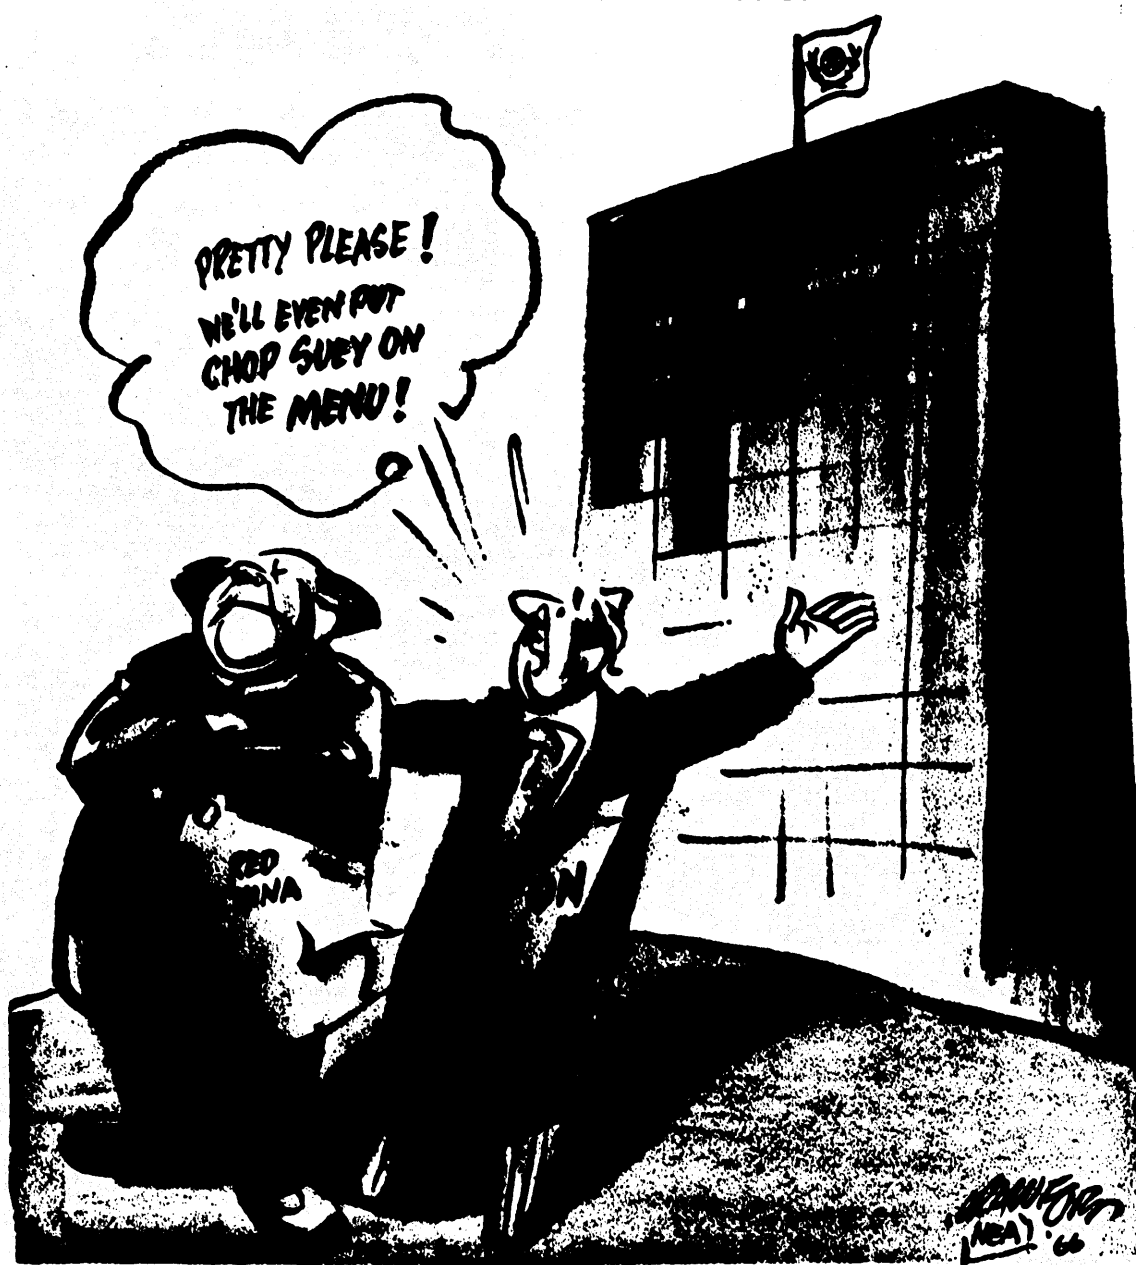

The knowledge explosion has made a big bang and we must gather as much of its fallout as we can to meet the needs of modern society and the economy.

Tech's wood industry meetings didn't draw large audiences, but surely they were launching a new era. The small mill operator would certainly think twice before taking a day off from work to listen to speeches about his business, but it could well be the most profitable day of the year for him. He is still strongly tied to the old ways of doing business, but there's lots of evidence that he is going to change his methods or be in a fix.

If the little wood industry isn't going to be able to pay its workers well and give them the benefits of large industry employment, it isn't going to keep them in a tight labor market. It has solved its problem partially by mechanizing its operations and this trend is expected to go farther, stretching fewer employees over more operations with the aid of machinery. The investment costs go up, but so should quality and production and income.

The State Technical Services Act has also been called the Engineer Extension Act. We'll be hearing more about it and as Leo Lucchesi says "My job is to discover the areas in which industry needs information and to get it to them." So here and at Northern and at the state's other universities is a new crop of Answer Men to help make the glue stick, the books balance and to keep the saw from wowing.

Will It Come to This?

Nature's Ability To Adjust

Big Cities Have Wildlife

By LEE SMITHS
A break in the heavy cloud ceiling spotlighted a deer at the edge of a thicket; a fat doe, looking almost twice as big as the compact deer of the overbrowsed northern woodlands; a southern Michigan farm deer, with precise knowledge of the killing range of shotguns and 22 rifles.

The speeding train, Detroit to Grand Rapids, permitted no more than a flash, yet the picture stays, part of a wildlife series that started before the train got beyond the Detroit city limits. The doe came on the screen a few miles north of Fowlerville. Close to the tracks, back along the line, half a dozen pheasants had popped into view, members of a sagacious race of birds that live from generation to generation in areas where shooting is illegal. The wildlife census taken on this train trip included a small flock of bluebirds in the Detroit River and a few bluebirds in lakes along the route, verifying reports of a better-than-usual flight of diving ducks. There was a solitary mallard in a weedy pond. A few signs of recent building on muskrat houses. Against the brilliant green of a field of winter wheat, three Canada geese, a pair with one youngster. What disasters had overtaken half a dozen others of the brood prompted guesses ranging from raccoon to water pollution.

The definition of "megapolis" in a medium-priced dictionary is "a very large urban unit." Megapolis keeps extending itself, wiping out more and more wildlife habitat.

However, most wildlife species have an amazing ability to adjust to drastic changes. Raccoons are more abundant in Michigan than they were 50 years ago. Cottontail rabbits flourish in suburbs. Mourning doves nest in city parks. Fox squirrels plant acorns on lawns. The crow has learned that a city has no perils for its kind. Bobwhite quail, when they are restless in early fall, sometimes explore backyard flower gardens. Raccoons upset garbage cans. Possum take refuge in suburban garages.

Megapolis wildlife is promising evidence of an improvement in our own behavior. Animals have learned that the closer they live to human habitation the better off they are. An old-timer recalls an era when anything alive — with the possible exception of a robin — was a legitimate target, anywhere, any time. There is vivid memory of a great blue heron wading at a bend of the river in a southern Michigan village, with our hardware dealer taking a rest "on the bridge railing with a .45-90 Winchester, plunking at the big bird. Kids with airguns shot sparrows for the bounty, and township clerks identified any small bird as a sparrow.

Although there are too many game law violators, it is probable that the average deer hunter would refrain from drilling a pileated woodpecker. Summer cottagers spare a visiting osprey. The murder of an eagle outrages everybody. One of the great advances of this century is a growing awareness of wildlife values.

Seek Wider Rights

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Very much up in the air at the White House right now is the kind of civil rights package President Johnson may choose to unveil to Congress in his 1967 State of the Union message.

On the heels of the Senate's September action of burying his 1964 package, with its controversial open housing feature, the President said flatly he would have another go at it this January.

Assuming he honors the pledge, the early judgment here is that neither a carbon copy of the 1964 program nor any other major civil rights legislation is likely to get anywhere in 1967.

The incoming 90th Congress is being read, naturally enough as inevitably more conservative than the 89th. The Republicans' pickup of 47 seats includes six new ones in the Old South, for an all-time modern high of 23. Some replaced more liberal Democrats.

Yet, even though Negro leaders themselves expect nothing from the 90th, there are signs that the President is not prepared to give up so easily.

The arithmetic of the Congress is not quite as bad as it sounds. The milestone 1964 civil rights bill was passed by the 88th Congress, which then had 178 Republicans in the House and 33 (later 34) in the Senate. Set against those figures, the 90th's "swing toward conservatism" does not look so striking. Totals now are only a bit higher.

Furthermore, some of the incoming Republicans drew surprising numbers of Negro votes. In the party's advertised search for a more winning image, with the 1968 presidential test in mind, more than a few of these particular voters might vote more liberally on civil rights proposals than might otherwise be expected.

The President may decide to bet that they and numerous others in both parties will do just that.

White House sources say he had plenty of advice earlier this year against including an open housing provision in the 1966 bill. Its passage by the House, even though in sharply modified form, surprised the "realists" who told him it would get nowhere.

Johnson's commitment to try again, despite the worsened odds, seems a very strong one.

He could perhaps easily dismiss civil rights in 1967 with a window-dressing statement in the State of the Union message and a token fight on the Hill. Or, at the least, he could dump the controversial open housing feature and try for the other 1966 elements — an end to racial discrimination on southern juries, protection against terrorism for Negro civil rights workers, etc.

But the guess has to be that he will not content himself with mere wheel-spinning. It has long been fashionable in liberal quarters to downgrade the President on civil rights, on the score that he came very late to active advocacy of major measures.

The obvious surface fact is that all the big proposals were enacted when he was either President or majority leader of the Senate.

The deeper side of it, hinted at by sources which have no reason whatsoever to give the President points he does not deserve, is that he has been laboring to advance the Negro cause in many ways still unreported. His placing of Negroes in some federal appointments on occasion required hard, though quiet, battling.

Given his evident commitment, the wager must be that Johnson will work hard in 1967 for the whole thing — open housing, in stronger form than the House-approved bill exempting 60 per cent of existing housing, new legal safeguards for Negroes, possibly even another effort at home rule for the District of Columbia (65 per cent Negro).

Valor in defeat might then be his strongest prospect. If he won, unexpectedly, he might have to hand more credit to new Republicans than to old Democrats.

Michigan Mirror

By ELMER E. WHITE

Demand upon education at all levels are increasing at an alarmingly high rate and give no indication of slowing down in this world of rapid change.

"The school building is becoming the focal point of the community," says Superintendent of Public Instruction Ira Polley. "It may be the domain of the youngster during the day but it becomes, in the evening, a center of continuing study for mother and dad, a forum for discussing community problems, and a training center for acquiring new skills."

This change has occurred, Polley notes, with the realization that a fixed amount of knowledge and one set of skills is no longer always sufficient for a lifetime.

Combined with this trend toward continuing education, Michigan and other states now find themselves challenged to take over some of the moral and social guidance of young people, tasks once reserved for the family or community.

Then there is the demand to serve the gifted and the mentally handicapped; the wealthy and the poverty-stricken; the physically normal and the physically handicapped.

Polley contends the teachers in Michigan schools are ready to meet these various demands but that community members must reciprocate with financial support for the kinds of programs these demands dictate.

"Education in the breadth and depth necessary to give Michigan residents full opportunity for self-development and fulfillment will require a greater investment than we have previously been willing to make in dollars and effort, but such an investment is within our means."

"The one thing we cannot afford is the appalling toll of ignorance," contends the education chief. "Ignorance is a negative influence that can only empty our minds and our pocketbooks."

Use of computers as teaching machines is seen as one part of the answer of meeting these increasing demands on education.

In some parts of the country, "talking computers" are being used already in experiments to teach reading at the earliest levels of education.

In Michigan, research in this field is being concentrated at the university level but researchers believe it can be adapted for use at all levels.

When Salvation Army Major Gabrielle Bequet was arrested during the 1960 disturbances in The Congo and charged with being a spy, her defense speech brought tears to the judge's eyes. He had her driven home by his own chauffeur.

Ann Landers

Need A Dream For One To Come True

Dear Ann Landers: Am I living in the dark ages or do I expect too much of my husband? Cocktail parties are my problem.

We walk into a cocktail party and off my husband goes for an hour or two or three. Occasionally, he'll whiz by and shout, "How are you doing?" But he's gone before I'm able to reply, "I'm doing absolutely lousy, thank you. I've been trapped by the world's biggest bores and my feet are killing me."

When I tell my husband I hate being stranded at cocktail parties but I could tolerate them if he would stay with me, he replies, "I don't like them myself, but it's an opportunity to make important contacts and just being seen is good for business. I can talk to YOU at home."

Am I being immature, as my husband insists? What can I do to cure him of abandoning me at these grueling affairs?—IGNORANT WIFE

Dear Wife: You have two choices, Lady. Either go to the cocktail parties with your husband and be prepared to fend off the bores, or stay at home where you probably will feel twice as sorry for yourself.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 14-year-old girl who is writing to you because if I confessed this to anyone they'd think I was nuts.

This summer I went to Norway with my parents. So many wonderful things happened on the trip. When I came home, I felt all grown up.

Before I went away I hated doing dishes and making beds, and cooking and baking. Now I find housekeeping is a lot of fun. And do you know why? Because I pretend I am grown up and the house is mine. I even have an imaginary husband. Do you think I am crazy, Ann?—MISS PRETEND

Dear Miss: No, I don't. It's fun to pretend. And as long as you KNOW you are pretending there is no harm in it. As it says in the song, if you want your dream to come true, you have to have a dream.

I'm printing your letter in the hope that other teen-agers who hate housework might get an idea. (If it works, millions of mothers will bless you!)

Dear Ann Landers: Last September I married a divorcee who has an 18-year-old son.

Before we were married, she persuaded me to permit the boy to live with us until February when he would volunteer for the army.

February has come and gone and the boy is still here. He is mouthy, insolent, arrogant and he also is wrecking our marriage.

When I came from work to-night my wife was crying. She said the boy had been baiting her all day. They argue constantly and he gets on her nerves but she has never disciplined him.

The boy has a job and is self-supporting. He gets along fairly well with his father who is unmarried. I feel he should go live there. I hate to make my wife choose between the boy and me, but that's the way things are headed. What is your opinion of this mess?—ON THE EDGE

Dear Edge: Remind your wife of the agreement that the boy would leave in February. But don't give her an ultimatum. It could wreck your marriage. Speak your piece and let's hope she has sense enough to do what should have been done in February.

Do you feel ill at ease... out of it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key To Popularity," enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Oswald: "If Al Morehead had any weakness at the bridge table it was that occasionally he made a simple hand look difficult. On the other hand, he was in a class by himself at making a difficult hand look simple."

Jim: "Here is a hand from 'Morehead on Bidding' which shows how to make a difficult hand look easy. Al reports that when South played the hand he cashed two trumps. Then he led out the ace and king of hearts only to have East ruff in and beat him."

Oswald: "Al explained that about half the experts shown this hand went down just as the actual declarer had. I must point out that Al solved the problem of making the grand slam in about three seconds."

Jim: "Here is his explanation. The proper play is quite obvious when you stop to consider it. You should not try to guard against a 5-0 heart split, but you should guard against a 4-1 split in that suit combined with a 3-1 trump break.

At trick two, cash your queen of trumps. Then you cash the ace of hearts, enter dummy with the ace of trumps, discard your king of hearts on the king of clubs, ruff a heart with your jack of trumps and enter dummy with the king of trumps. This is the third trump lead and pulls East's last trump. Then you ruff another low heart with your last trump, cash your ace of diamonds and claim the balance in dummy with a trump and three good hearts."

Oswald: "Obvious to Al. He was perhaps the greatest analyst of all time."

Jim: "Morehead points out in his analysis of the bidding that South really should have bid five no-trump, the grand slam force, to ask his partner to bid the grand slam if he held both ace and king of spades. This would have been more elegant and better bidding but would not have changed the final contract."

You bid two no-trump and your partner rebids to three diamonds. What do you do now?

When army ants bivouac at night, each ant clings to a neighbor to form a living rope with their tens of thousands of bodies. The mass of bodies, hanging from a vine or log to the ground, makes a snug, safe camp for the queen.

Rainbow Report Planned Tuesday To Sportsmen

Progress of rainbow trout plants in Delta County streams by the Delta County Sportsman's Club and the Michigan Dept. of Conservation will be discussed by Dave Johnson, conservation dept. fish biologist, at a meeting next Tuesday.

The Delta County Sportsmen's Club will host the program at 7:30 p. m. at the club house.

Rainbow trout fingerlings were planted in the Days and Bark Rivers and in the Schaaw Lake area in 1965 by both the Sportsmen's Club and the department in an effort to establish rainbow "runs" for area fishermen. "Project Rainbow" for the sportsmen supplied 69,000 fingerlings and the department added another 40,000.

Johnson will discuss results of the program to date, including a report on growth of the fish, based on observations by himself and Clifford Long, Escanaba district fish biologist, over the past 14 months.

Santa and the Giant Fighter

By Lucrèce Beale

Synopsis: An elfite persuades the boy who believes in giants to go to Santa Land and fight the giant who has captured the Fairy Queen.

CHAPTER THREE THEY MEET A TOAD

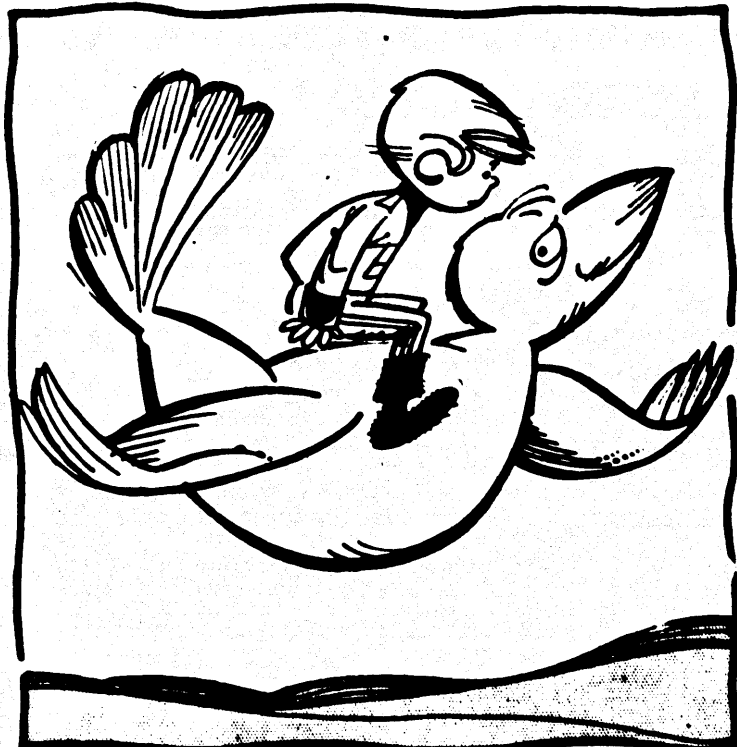

It's a very long way to Santa Land and very few people know the way.

William Henry Christopher Preserve — now known as Billy the Giant Fighter — was glad he had the elfite to guide him because even with directions he was sure he would never find his way.

It was very dark. At first this was no problem because the elfite wore earmuffs and each muff had a little light attached to it. All Billy had to do was follow the twin lights bouncing ahead of him through the woods.

But after a while even the elfite appeared to be lost. "Of course it would be much easier if we had the moon," he complained. "But since Goko the giant has stolen it out of the sky there's no telling where we might end up."

They went north, east, west and south. They seemed to be going in circles and the elfite hurried along muttering, "Oh, dear! There's really no time to lose." As he rushed along he bounced higher and higher as if to make up for their lack of progress. Billy stumbled after him bobbing his head up and down as he tried to follow the bouncing lights.

The airchoo bird rose gracefully into the air, carrying Billy.

Suddenly the lights disappeared.

"Where are you?" cried Billy.

"I've lost you!"

There was no answer. Billy ran back and forth calling frantically. He stumbled over a log and sprawled on the ground. Right beside his face were the two lights — very dim.

"Say something!" he cried.

"What happened?"

"Gallomp!" was the reply.

Billy reached out and picked up a huge soft toad. Two lights blinked dimly inside the toad.

Billy cried, "You ate the elfite! You horrible toad!"

"Not at all," said the toad giving a huge belch. "I was here in my own bed having a rather restless night. I opened my mouth to yawn and something hideous bounced in. I assure you I find whatever it is very indigestible and also a most extraordinary invasion of privacy."

All this time the two little lights inside the toad were going blink-blink-blink. Billy drew his wooden sword and held it over the toad.

"What on earth do you think you are going to do?" asked the toad in alarm.

"You'll see!" retorted Billy and he brought the flat of his sword down on the toad's fat rear end. The astonished toad gulped, and his enormous jaw dropped open. The elfite bounced out and streaked away through the woods with Billy at his heels.

Fortunately daylight had now come and the elfite was able to find his way to a shrunken oak that stood in a nearby forest. Here the elfite stopped and said "This is as far as I go. The airchoo bird will take you the rest of the way."

He knocked three times on the trunk of the tree. The branches parted and a small white bird fluttered to the ground.

"This is an airchoo bird," explained the elfite. "He can fly fast as an airplane and steady as a choo choo. He'll take you straight to Santa Land."

"But how can I ride him?" exclaimed Billy. "He's almost as small as you."

"Try and see."

Billy straddled the bird and a curious thing happened. Either the airchoo bird grew big or Billy grew small. Whatever it was the bird rose gracefully into the air with Billy riding ever so easily on his back.

They zoomed over cities, across oceans, past mountain peaks and landed finally in a snow blanketed valley.

It was Santa Land!

Billy climbed off the airchoo bird's back and ran as fast as he could towards Santa's little red house. As he ran he held his wooden sword ready in case Goko the giant was already there.

American Passport Is Ticket To Club

By EDDY GUIMORE

LONDON (AP) — "Take us to a night spot where there won't be any Americans," said the visitor from the United States.

"That's right," said his wife. "Some place where we won't be falling all over Americans like we were in Paris, and Rome."

But, you and your husband are Americans.

"Of course we are, honey, but we see enough of them at home. When we're in London we want to see Britishers. You know, the swinging ones in their swinging places."

Told that in London it is very difficult to find a minus-American night spot, the husband replied with a resigned sigh: "If it's really like that, all right. But please, some place where there won't be too many."

Years ago someone said that there are few hatreds as intense as the hatred of one American tourist for another.

Generally, this is still true today.

Although Western Europe's night clubs were not specifically designed for the American tourist, many were certainly founded with the free-spending, big-tipping American visitor in mind.

Some Exceptions

Some notable exceptions are: Dolly's, Scotch of St. James, Blaise's, the Cromwellian, The In-Place, and re-opening soon, the Ad Lib.

Dolly's is big, packed, explosive, loud and very dark. So dark that you may find yourself sitting next to a member of the Rolling Stones and not even know it for... maybe a minute or two.

Here you find members of the new aristocracy, the disc jockeys, some pop musicians, photographers and racing drivers.

Blaise's is really crazy, man. Here you can see a girl with a bare midriff dancing with a man wearing gloves. Gloves are in-things now. Blaise's even has a place for low-stake gambling.

The croupiers look like demure schoolgirls in their blouses and prim ties. Maybe they are, for strange things are happening in London 1966.

All these places have food, drink and music. They are clubs, and if you're not a member and British, there may be trouble getting in.

Fees, Of Course

If you are an American, brandish your passport and you're as good as in. Understandably, there are membership fees.

The Ad Lib, which was originally situated next door to a church, is moving but its owner, John Kennedy, says that when its doors open in June, The Ad Lib's going to be so far out it's going to be in.

On its menu chicken in several forms is listed. A footnote reads: "served live if you prefer it but the feathers are hell on the tonsils, but very sexy with applesauce."

Kennedy Clan In Sun Valley For Holiday Skiing

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP) —

A good part of the Kennedy clan — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy D-N.Y., his family, Mrs. John F. Kennedy, her children, and Patricia Lawford, sister of the senator and the late president — are expected to spend the Christmas holidays skiing at Sun Valley, Idaho.

The senator's office has confirmed that he and his wife's family and Mrs. Kennedy and her two children, Caroline and John Jr., have reservations, but said the exact dates are not known.

In New York, it was disclosed that Jacqueline Kennedy appeared at a restaurant for lunch wearing a skirt that ended three inches above mid-knee.

Although the skirt was not quite mini, "it was the shortest we've seen her in," said Dick Atkins, an executive of Women's Wear Daily, a fashion trade publication.

Toyland '66 Offers Oldies In New Dress

CHEERFUL TEARFUL (left) is the first doll with a changeable facial expression. Raise her left arm and she smiles. Lower it and she pouts. She is 13 inches tall and dressed in a pink water-repellent flannel robe. She cries real tears and wets her diaper, too. Christopher Robin (right) is out of the movie version of Winnie-the-Pooh. With him comes a vinyl Winnie-the-Pooh perched on a tree limb and a record of songs from the film.

NEW YORK (NEA)—When spacemen invade your home on Christmas, toy battlemen throw hand grenades across the breakfast table, a Molotov cocktail lands on the roast turkey and Susie's new doll wets the living room couch, just take an aspirin and resign yourself to Toyland '66.

There's no point in looking back with nostalgia to your own doll that didn't do anything or dad's electric trains. Toys, like fashions, bear the stamp of the era in which we live.

Space suits are simply up-to-date "dress-up" toys. Dad had his cowboy outfit. Grenades and Molotov cocktails are more in keeping with the times than a musket would be. And you wouldn't want an inadequately equipped toy soldier around.

How can a cap gun compare in efficiency with a ray gun? And as for dolls—why have one that just lies around like a lump when you can get one that cries, wets, pouts, teases or frugs? You can even find one that asks questions in case you don't get enough trouble of that kind from the kids.

Realer-Than-Real

The doll crop this season boasts the "realer-than-real" doll. Claimed most realistic is a teething baby with a miserable expression, showing her first tooth.

Cheerful Tearful, another newcomer, has changeable facial expressions. She smiles, pouts and cries real tears.

There's a whole new group of Mary Poppins-inspired character dolls and literature is represented by a Winnie the Pooh series and a Little Women group. Even our old friend, Raggedy Ann, has been treated to new printed flannel pajamas and matching cap.

Among the stuffed toys is Duchess Turtle, designed for a child to sit astride or use as a pillow. There's a stuffed frog that frugs and he has a stuffed pig friend that polkas. A puppet version of Soupy Sales does the mouse.

Most of the homemaker toys for this season really work. Vacuum cleaners clean up, laundry equipment washes and dries and an "easy bake" oven produces its own honey cakes.

Laughter takes the spotlight in the game sector of Santa's workshop this year, based on the theory that kids need relaxation from the rigors of homework just as dad does from his job. In another era if Johnny was tired from doing homework his mother would have felt he was also too tired to play games. But we live today. A card game, called Bird Brain (just for laughs) is played in a saucer-shaped playing area flanked by 3D birds.

Most strenuous of the new laugh provokers is Twister, a frenetic action game played in stocking feet on a large plastic mat where the players literally tie themselves into knots as they follow spinner directions on how to place their arms and legs.

New, too, on the game scene is Goldfinger, played on a base that is a replica of Fort Knox, and Chicken Out, a competitive game keyed to tweaking the tail of a plastic chicken.

Two additions to the "makeand-play" toy category are Creepie People with its own Thinkmaker in which imaginative boys and girls can make all sorts of weird-looking fluorescent creatures and a Chocolate Factory that makes real chocolate.

That's not everything. But it's a good part of what you'll find around for Christmas. The new toys are better equipped than their older counterparts, perhaps. But they're still just dolls, trucks, games and toy soldiers.

Inland Gets New Crusher

Inland Lime and Stone Co. is operating this week, and Tuesday loaded the P. D. Block for stone for Inland Steel Co.

About four more boat loadings are anticipated before the end of the navigation season. Loading was in wet "dirty" weather Tuesday as rain-fall occurred.

The winter layoff after this week will be lower than last year due to construction scheduled this winter. One new crusher has been installed and the other two to be installed arrived Saturday.

Other equipment also is to be shipped for the project to give greater capacity for smaller size stone.

The shipping season just concluding is described as "generally good" by John W. Moffat, vice president and general manager. It is down some, but not greatly from last year.

Drivers Hurt In Accident

Harold Hughson, 38, of 714 Garden Ave., and Stanley Zellar, 25, of Rte. 1, Gulliver had apparently minor injuries in an accident at 9 a. m., Tuesday on U. S. 2 at the River Road intersection.

State Police said Hughson attempted to turn left from the shoulder and went into the path of the Zellar car.

Hughson was given notice to appear for improper left turn and expired chauffeur license.

Ski And Skate Areas Planned For Holidays

Men interested in playing in a city league basketball team are requested to report to the old gym Wednesday night at 8 p. m.

Grade school basketball is underway with 4th, 5th and 6th graders meeting in the old gym Saturday mornings.

Boys from St. Francis report from 8:30 to 9:30, Central-Lakeside from 9:30 to 10:30 and Lincoln, 10:30 to 11:30.

The recreation department hopes to have the skating rink and tow operating for the Christmas holidays, if weather permits. Two slopes of the ski area have been improved by bulldozing and the slope adjacent to the tow will be lighted for night skiing.

Germfask School Note For Tuition

The Germfask school district note of $10,000, discussed in Manistique area school district budget sessions was incurred about three years ago and has been renewed twice, Mrs. Oral Lawrence, treasurer of the former township district said this week in response to inquiry by the Daily Press.

The money was borrowed to pay tuition of students sent to Manistique, she said. The first year after the state stopped paying tuition reimbursement, the district paid with its own funds. Afterwards it had to borrow, she said.

The indebtedness was greater than $10,000 at the time, she stated. The renewals were approved by the state, Mrs. Lawrence said. The note is held by the First National Bank of Manistique.

The district is now consolidated with the Manistique area school district, following approval by voters last July. There has been no vote to assume indebtedness of the district.

Post Office Open Afternoons Of Dec. 10-17

Due to increased patronage in the Christmas season, the Manistique post office will be open Saturday afternoon, Dec. 10 and Dec. 17. Postmaster John Kelly reports.

The post office usually closes at noon Saturdays. Closing time for the next two Saturdays has been advanced to 5 p. m.

Parcel post is increasing every day and it appears volume will be ahead of last year, Kelly said. The Christmas card rush is expected next week. Overseas mailing, already completed, was ahead of other years.

Briefly Told

A story hour will be conducted at 11:30 a. m., Dec. 10 in the library for children three and older.

The Merri-Makers Square Dance Club meets at 8 p. m., Saturday in Lincoln gym. On the host committee will be Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Weinert and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Brady. Members are to bring sandwiches or cookies for lunch.

Use ZIP Code On Yule Mail, Says Postmaster

This year, more than ever before, the use of ZIP Code is essential to efficient delivery of the more than eight billion pieces of holiday mail that will be handled by the Postal Service just before Christmas, said Escanaba Postmaster James E. Pryal, who urged all residents of Delta County to make a concerted effort to include the five digit number in both the address and return address.

ZIP Code helps cut down the number of times a piece of mail must be sorted before reaching its final destination. This saves time in delivery and cuts down the cost of moving the mail, he said.

"We expect a record-breaking mail volume this Christmas and will need all the help we can get," Postmaster Pryal said. "There are three easy ways in which you can cooperate with the Postal Service and at the same time assure that you get on-time delivery for your holiday gifts and greetings. You should shop early, mail early and use ZIP Codes." Zip Codes for addresses you use most often can be obtained from the ZIP Code directory in the post office lobby or by phone.

Hermansville

Word was received here of the death of Richard "Dick" Hoelce, of Grosse Pointe, Mich.

Hoelce was one of the original members of the Porky Hill Ranch at Vega. This season Hoelce spent one week at the Ranch before returning to his Island Lake cottage at Manistique. He was visiting in Munising and was in one of the stores when he suffered a heart attack.

During World War II approximately twenty-five people from Hermansville worked for Hoelce who had a tool and die shop doing defense work in Ecorse, Mich. He still had the Majestic Tool and Die Shop in Detroit.

Funeral services were held in Grosse Pointe.

Heads Producers

DETROIT (AP)—The National Milk Producers Federation has elected Glenn Lake of North Branch, Mich., as its president for a seventh straight term. Lake, a dairy farmer, also is president of the Michigan Milk Producers Association.

May Ban DDT

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—The Connecticut Board of Pesticides is considering a proposal to ban the use of the insecticide DDT by contractors hired to spray plants.

The measure would not restrict the use of DDT by homeowners, farmers or municipalities. The state has already banned the spraying of DDT from airplanes.

"Don't Tread On Me" was the motto on the rattlesnake flag carried by the Minutemen in 1775.

WINTER WONDERLAND LOOK SNO FLOK

Do it yourself. It's easy... It's fun. Spray on soft, snowy beauty with General Mills' Sno-Flok. Make flocked trees, wreaths, centerpieces and other decorations at a fraction of the cost you'd pay for professionally flocked pieces.

Each Sno-Flok kit has everything you need: spray gun, plastic water jar, instructions and a 1-lb. bag of flocking material. Use with an exhaust type vacuum cleaner. Spray natural snowy white or add a few drops of food color for pastel tints.

Sno-Flok prevents needle shedding and is fire-retardant. Use it on natural or artificial trees.

Carol Fredrickson Wed To Edwin A. Schweitzer

Miss Carol Marie Fredrickson of Worthington, Minn., formerly of Gladstone became the bride of Edwin Anthony Schweitzer of Adrian, Minn. during a ceremony performed Saturday, Nov. 26 at St. Adrian Catholic Church in Adrian.

The Rev. William Anderson officiated at the double ring nuptials at 1 p. m.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Fredrickson of 1115 Michigan Ave., Gladstone and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schweitzer of Adrian.

Acetate Peau
The bride selected for her wedding a floor length gown of acetate peau styled with a scoop neckline, long tapered sleeves and embroidered bodice. The back of the gown was accented with a full chapel length train.

Her veil of silk illusion was held by a crown of pearls and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and yellow rosebuds.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Kent McMartin of Cadillac, Mich. served as her matron of honor and bridesmaid was Miss Mavis Marquardt of Minneapolis. They were attired in floor length gowns of sapphire blue crepe with matching headpieces and they carried colonial bouquets of fall colored flowers.

Serving as bestman was Charles Nyles of Mankato, Minn. and seating the guests were Les Ebeling of Worthington, Minn. and Maynard Samuelson of Carbondale, Ill.

Reception
The newlyweds were honored with a wedding reception in the church parlors following the ceremony.

Following a wedding trip the couple will make their home at 1401 Monks Ave., Apt. 1-13, Mankato, Minn.

The bride is a graduate of Gladstone High School and the Northwestern School of Nursing and is presently employed

Have A Suit For $350?

Status Gifts For Rich Yule

By ROBERT COCHNAR

NEW YORK (NEA) — We're going to reveal some of the hopes which men have when asked, "What would you like for Christmas?"

There's a marvelous little category of presents which reeks of understated good taste. Nothing showy, remember—just simple and impossibly expensive.

The skier will know he's the most expensively dressed man on the mountain if he's wearing a wolverine-trimmed mink parka, made of natural ranch mink and Russian wolverine. Available for just $849.

And a perfect complement for such a gift is an expensive-paid skiing weekend in Chilly in August. Eastern Air Lines has the details.

For the gourmet, why not a six-ounce can of tiger meat prepared in a tasty mushroom sauce ($2.49)? To wash it down a gift certificate for a bottle of 1885 Briand cognac ($18) would be nice. Better include a round-trip plane ticket to Paris, since Briand can be bought only in Europe.

You're a sports car buff? Spread the word you'd appreciate a neat little Aston Martin DB-6 with the 325-hp Vantage engine and three Twin-Choke Weber carburetors. Nice leather seats, too. Price: $15,000. But it's fully equipped.

There are hundreds of men's colognes on the market but only one costs $18 an ounce. It's called Vetiver de Carven Extrait and, according to the maker, it's a "headstrong and virile scent with a lasting power that requires much less application than the usual men's colognes." A fine stocking gift. Tiffany of New York offers any number of smart gifts for the discriminating male. Including:

Gold cufflinks with a discreet, triple row of diamonds ($750); lizard-texture 18K gold cigarette case ($850); Audemars Piguet extra-thin wrist watch with a plain leather strap ($880). Also fetching, but not so expensive, is a crystal caviar server ($15).

A custom-made suit is just the item to make any well-dressed man happy. Next time you're on the continent, just stop in at Brioni in Rome, Pierre Cardin in Paris or Sandon & Co. in London. Have one of these fine establishments cut a simple set of threads for you. Remember to have the bill—which should be somewhere in the neighborhood of $350—sent to your benefactor. (If you're bored with Europe, Dunhill in New York will be pleased to be of service.)

For the tired businessman who hates music but doesn't mind a cocktail now and then, how about an antique white wood baby grand piano. It opens into a liquor cabinet which contains a bar, serving cart, stereo receiver, record player and television set. Just $1,850, plus tax.

But the grandest gift that could be presented to any man is a blank check. A little crass, perhaps, but then the giver needn't go through the bother of scouting the world for a nifty gift.

Cooked chicken and noodles teamed with cream sauce make a delicious dish called Chicken Tetrazzini. Don't overcook the noodles that go into this main course because it is reheated in the oven or under the broiler.

Germfask

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Skarritt returned from Utica, where their son-in-law, James Sadler underwent surgery. Three of their grandchildren returned with them for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. William Vargo, Vernon Brissett, John King and Richard Sweet visited Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Nallett and Richard. They also did some hunting before returning to their homes at Pontiac.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Conklin of Germfask are the parents of a son, born Nov. 26, weighing 7 pounds 13 ounces. Mrs. Conklin is the former Yvonne A. Bybee. The baby has been named Robby Dale. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Conklin of Bitely and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis of Brighton.

A former resident and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Larry E. Swisher of Ann Arbor are parents of a son, born Nov. 28, weighing 7 pounds 15 ounces. He has been named Michael Joseph. Mrs. Swisher is the former Sandra Frayer. Mrs. Emmett Crawn of Germfask is the paternal grandmother of the baby.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nicholson of Curtis are parents of a daughter born Nov. 28 weighing 6 pounds and 1 ounce. Mrs. Nicholson is the former Beverly Ann Bondle.

Mrs. Arthur Sheridan and daughter, Cynthia of Glen Arbor, Mich., visited Mrs. Sheridan's brother and wife, Mr. and Fred Quirk.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Tuttle returned from Clio where they had spent some time visiting their children.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gurney returned to their home at Detroit to spend the winter. They have a summer home here on South Manistique Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wonsettler of Midland spent a few days at their cabin at Curtis.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sheppard and sons of Manistique visited at home of Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Humphrey Sr. Friday and Thursday.

Mrs. Alva Wright of Curtis is a patient at the Helen Newberry Joy Hospital at Newberry.

Mr. and Mrs. Hermie McGill of Muskegon are visiting at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lowery of Curtis.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nickerson and son, Bart, of Manchester visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Nickerson and other relatives at Germfask for a few days. Mrs. Anne Crisler returned to her home from the Helen Newberry Joy Hospital at Newberry.

The Curtis Girl Scouts and Brownies will hold a meeting and Christmas Party at the school on Dec. 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Burns of Germfask returned to their home here after visiting their children. Mr. and Mrs. Basil Burns and family and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Belounea and family at Madison Heights, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. William Freeman and family returned to their home at Kalamazoo after visiting with relatives at Germfask and Newberry.

Cookie dough designed for a cookie press can be rolled out and cut if a little extra flour is added. The rolled cookies won't be so rich as the pressed ones but you can cut them into attractive shapes and add interesting garnishes—nuts, frosting and chocolate shot, glazed cherries.

Have you ever tried using a swivel-blade vegetable peeler when you want to remove the outer covering from green peppers?

HOLIDAY GLITTER: From the new holiday and cruise collection comes this flattering two-piece knit ensemble discreetly glittering. Crystal beads touch off the V-neck and sleeves, giving subtle glamour for the evening. In black, winter white or pastel colors it's ideal for late afternoons through long holiday nights.

The Marquette Iron Rangers have this thing going on Sunday. They never win their United States Hockey League games on that day. Last weekend Oakie Brumm's puck chasers whipped league leading Green Bay, 6-3, in a Saturday night battle at the Palestra. But it was the same old story Sunday as the Rangers bowed, 7-4.

Coleman, annual prep wrestling power in Wisconsin ranks, displayed its ability in a 46-6 victory over Iron Mountain. Dave and Don Roberts collected Iron Mountain's lone points by scoring victories in the 120 and 112 pound classes.

Jack Gotta, former Ironwood athlete, has retired as a player with Regina Rough Riders of the Canadian Football League and is serving as an assistant coach for the team. Gotta was one of the leading pass catchers in Canadian football during his playing career.

Coch Fred Boddy's Bay Port (Green Bay) High School basketball team fashioned its first victory of the season by downing Bonduel, 55-49. Bay Port is a new member of the Northwestern Wisconsin Conference.

Northern Michigan University athletes suffered through a bleak weekend, losing in three different sports. Coach Stan Albeck's Wildcat cagers dropped their season opener to Bradley, 98-74. Northern's swimming team bowed to Central Michigan by a 57-47 margin and the Wildcat wrestling squad was pinned, 29-6, in a match with Central.

Coch Bruce Warren's Trout Creek Anglers registered their second victory of the season this week by trimming National Mine, 58-49. Big Don Besonen veterans of the team that notched a perfect regular season record last season paced his mates with 26 points.

A field goal by Bob Pleske with one second remaining on the scoreboard clock gave Michigan Tech's junior varsity basketball team a 97-96 overtime victory over Suomi College of Hancock. Dave Vertanen, the former Rock and Chassel prep star, netted 23 points for the losers. One of the standouts for the Tech jayvees was Dane Dominiel, freshman from Iron River, with a dozen points.

Curt Lahti, a former All-Upper Peninsula basketball star from Noughton, helped Superior State University to an 88-70 victory over Michigan Tech in the season opener for Coach Verdie Cox's Huskies. Lahti chipped in 18 points for the Yellow Jackets. Frank Sahlihan, Tech's captain, scored 15 points.

Former Escanaban Jim Ward, veteran ski and hockey enthusiast, will again conduct the Green Bay Press Gazette ski school this winter. Ward headed the program for the first time last year when 540 skiers received insignias for completion of the school.

Wakefield vaulted into sole possession of first place in the Michigan-Wisconsin basketball conference with a convincing 65-47 decision over Ironwood. The victory was Wakefield's fourth straight this season and the setback Ironwood's first after three victories. Al Imhals, 6 foot 5 inch veteran, paced the Cardinals with 20 points while Steve Shining topped Ironwood with 15.

Gwinn and Marquette Baraga tangled in a low scoring contest last week before the Model Towners went on a 26 point spree in the fourth quarter to win by a 44-37 margin. Coach Jerry Erickson's Model Towners trailed, 23-18, before they finally found the range in the final quarter.

New Coach Crane Liberman has had a rugged introduction to Upper Peninsula high school basketball at South St. Marie. His Blue Devils suffered their third straight setback of the season at the hands of the Marquette Redmen, 67-53, last weekend. Steve Andrews paced the winners with 25 points while Jon Christie tallied 20 for the losers.

Sophomore Star Sets Pace For Louisville Team

By The Associated Press — Low Alcinder of UCLA isn't the only sophomore in college basketball to make an impressive varsity debut. There's also Butch Beard at the University of Louisville.

Beard's debut Saturday night was overshadowed by Alcinder's 36 points as the top-ranked Bruins crushed Southern California 105-60. Beard got 27 as Louisville defeated Georgetown, Ky., 98-81.

Beard, 6-foot-3 and weighing 175 pounds, had the stage all to himself Tuesday night with UCLA and Alcinder awaiting the weekend invasion of the Duke Blue Devils. The soph from Hardinsburg, Ky., demonstrated his opening night performance was no fluke with another sparkling home court effort.

He tossed in 21 points to again top the Louisville scoring as the Cardinals, fourth-ranked nationally to UCLA in The Associated Press poll, whipped Southwestern Louisiana 107-68. Texas Western, the defending national champions and No. 3 in the AP poll, made it three in a row with an easy 61-36 conquest of East Texas State at El Paso. The Miners played without their star, Bobby Joe Hill, who was suspended indefinitely before the game for disciplinary reasons. Coach Don Haskins termed the suspension "temporary."

Wake Forest nipped Virginia Tech 78-75 and Minnesota edged Drake 71-66 in two home court overtime triumphs while on the road Dayton downed Miami of Ohio 80-71 and Princeton beat Villanova 48-37.

Abe Alkins' three-point play in the last 34 seconds gave Hofstra a 71-69 home court victory over Seton Hall. Tom Ringlemann came off the bench and scored three quick baskets to spark Syracuse over Cornell 99-67 in another home court triumph.

In other leading games, all home court victories, San Francisco beat Hardin Simmons 73-61, Southern Methodist edged Oklahoma City 81-78, Baylor downed Centenary 91-73, Auburn overcame Louisiana Tech 88-77, Davidson defeated Furman 84-71, George Washington whipped Richmond 78-68 and New Orleans Loyola rolled over Texas Christian 91-75.

Stephenson Eagles Jolt Braves For First Cage Victory Of Year

STEPHENSON — The Gladstone Braves skidded under the 500 mark here Tuesday night, blowing a five point lead in the fourth quarter to lose to the Stephenson Eagles, 50-48.

The setback was the second in three starts for Coach Bill Wood's cagers who are on the road again Friday night at Munising. The victory was the first of the season, following two defeats, for Coach Gus Lord's Eagles.

Although they led through most of the contest, the Braves turned in a ragged performance that included 28 turnovers and an unimpressive 28 percent shooting mark from the field.

"We played a poor game and really took a beating," Wood stated today. "Our boys couldn't hit a thing from outside and that killed us. We've got a lot of work to do and no time to do it in," the Gladstone mentor added.

The Braves got off to a good start by pulling to a 6-2 lead on a pair of buckets and a free throw by John Watson and another free throw by Pete Jarvis while Bruce Wong tallied a field goal for the Eagles.

Two quick buckets by Mark Stupak sent the Braves ahead, 14-12, at the end of the period. Inability to connect from the free throw line hurt the Braves in the second frame and Stephenson grabbed a 20-15 lead.

The Braves missed their first shots on four 1-and-1 situations in that stretch. However, Gladstone stormed back shortly before the half with Tom Stade and Steve Nelson leading the way to a 26-22 cushion at the intermission.

The Braves led by as much as eight in the third period but the Eagles pared it to five, 38-33, at the end of the quarter as Gus Lord tossed in a free throw and John Gunderson a field goal.

Stephenson made its bid in the first four minutes of the fourth period, scoring eight straight points to move in the 41-38. Gunderson netted three field goals in the outburst.

The Braves were never able to regain command of the game after the midway point in the final period, again missing on the first attempt of a pair of 1-and-1 free throw opportunities. Stephenson spread its lead to 50-42 before the Braves narrowed the gap on a pair of field goals by Stade and Stupak in the final 17 seconds.

Gladstone had four players in double figures, led by Stade with 14 points. Gunderson topped the Stephenson scorers with 13.

From the field, the Braves managed only 16 goals in 57 shots for their 28 percent. The Eagles connected on 19 of 55 shots for 34 percent and added 12 of 19 from the foul line. The Braves made 14 of 25 free throw attempts.

Gladstone's lone bright spot came in the rebounding department where the Braves had a 41 to 35 advantage.

Stephenson also won the jayvee game, 43-33.

NEW YORK (AP) — There were about 100 people in the room and most of them were football heroes of the first order. Fifty of them were members of the Hall of Fame.

There were Jay Berwanger and Dick Kazmaier and Duffy Daugherty and Ara Parseghian and Pappy Waldorf and Jim Crowley and Pete Pihos and Charley Conerly and Capt. Bill Carpenter and Red Blaik and you name him.

And there were Lt. Col. Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis. Somehow it wasn't too surprising that they drifted together in a small corner of the crowded room, and somehow, it wasn't too surprising to find them talking football.

It was 20 years after their halcyon seasons and they were talking about the football teams of today vs. the greats — notable their Army team — of two decades ago.

"Today's teams are bigger, stronger, faster than we were," said Davis, now director of special events for the Los Angeles Times and, 20 years ago, the Mr. Outside of the inside-outside combination that has never been equalled.

"I don't want to run against the Michigan States and the Notre Dames of today."

"The big difference between our teams and the teams today is the pass," said Blanchard, an Air Force officer. "We didn't throw as much and we didn't throw as well as they do."

"And there's the two-platoon difference. We played both ways. Now, they play one way. But, man for man, I'd match our teams against the best today."

"I'd run against them." And there was a big grin. "I don't know how well I'd do, but I'd run against them."

The two were on hand for the annual Awards Dinner of the Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Tuesday night at a mid-

Little Giants Defeat Rapid River's Champs

RAPID RIVER — The Rock Little Giants handed the defending Central League champion Rapid River Rockets a 77-45 trimming here Tuesday night.

Coach Gene DeKeyser's cagers turned in a torrid shooting performance to bury the Rockets early in the contest. Rock led 16-12 at the end of the first period and 41-23 at half-time.

The Little Giants zeroed in on the bucket for 30 field goals in 71 shots for 42 percent. Larry Lippens led his mates with 26 points and turned in an outstanding rebounding job.

Alan Pasi was the lone Rocket to reach double scoring figures with 12 points. The victory was Rock's third after an opening loss to Trenary. Rapid River's record is now 1-3.

Rapid River won the jayvee game, 45-43, in overtime.

Nahma Arrows Gain Revenge

NAHMA — Coach Warren

Groleau's Nahma Arrows got revenge from the team that defeated them three times last season when they nipped Cooks, 46-44, here Tuesday night.

Nahma rallied from a 13-6 deficit in the first period to tie the score at 23-23 at half-time. The lead changed hands with almost every field goal the rest of the way.

David Feathers put it out of reach for Nahma with a free throw in the closing seconds of the game. Mike Turan led the Arrows in scoring with 18 points and dominated the boards. Neil Hartman paced Cooks with 17 points.

Cooks won the jayvee game, 47-26.

Burglars Hit Shop:

Clothing Theft Exceeds $3,000

The Mata Brown Shoppe, a quality women's apparel establishment at 919 Ludington St., was broken into last night by thieves who made off with clothing valued in excess of $3,000.

"This is an awful loss for us at this time of year," said Mrs. Orville Hakes, proprietor of the shop. "Because of the high cost of coverage against theft,

Festival Of Nations:

League Presents Holiday Customs

BARK RIVER—A Christmas Festival of Nations was presented to a large crowd Monday evening at Salem Lutheran Church by the Luther Leaguers.

The program told the origin of many Christmas customs and decorations such as the Advent wreath, altar candles, olive tree, creche, Christmas tree, star, bells and the legend of St. Lucia. Each was lighted as the origin was explained during the program which included the Processional and six other hymns sung by the congregation and Leaguers. A welcome was by Dan Krause, trio sung by Dan Krause, Dennis Sundquist and Danny VanEnkevort; offering prayer, Pastor Charles Beckingham and readings by the Leaguers.

St. Lucia Queen was Judy Hanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hanson. Her attendants were Linda Palmgren, Kristine Bruce and Kathy Dahl. St. Lucia's escort was Dan Krause and escorts for the attendants were Dennis Sundquist, Danny VanEnkevort and Jerry Olson.

Honoring St. Lucia is a pre-Christmas custom which came from Sweden. St. Lucia Queen and court served coffee from Swedish coffee pots. Table decorations were in the Swedish Christmas theme. Mrs. Elmer Bolm brought a Swedish wreath with bell and a Swedish creamer and sugar bowl.

Acolytes for the program were Thomas Sundquist and Gary Palmgren. Ushers were James Bruce and Michael Hanson. Organists were Kristine Bruce and Janice Bolm.

Others who participated were Bette Lu Krause, Deborah Beckingham, Kathy Flak, Jayne Olson, Len Olson, Susan Sundquist, Lynn Bell, Phil Norman, Patty Hanson, Deborah Bergstrom, Thomas Sundquist, Carol Larson, Susan Olson and Julie Krause.

Burial will be in the family lot in Gardens of Rest Cemetery.

President Mum On Possibility Of Tax Boost

compares with a budget estimate last January of $39.5 billion.

How much of the defense total is being spent on the war, no one will say.

Johnson made his announcement after devoting much of the day to conferences with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

They talked not only about fiscal '67 outlays but also of the new defense budget for the following bookkeeping year, that will go to Congress next month. Johnson told newsmen "we made substantial progress" at the meetings. But he said "there are a few specific items that are yet to be resolved" — issues on which McNamara and one or more of the Joint Chiefs disagree. He indicated the size of the new defense budget probably will not be fixed until next month.

Johnson had a second major announcement at the session with reporters: The Federal Home Loan Bank Board will act to provide, through loans to savings and loan associations, an additional $500 million for the home mortgage market. Homebuilding has gone into a sharp slump because of tight money and a shortage of mortgage money.

McNamara was asked about the recent stepup in U.S. air activity over North Viet Nam. His questioner referred to this as an intensification of the war. "I don't think it is fair to characterize it as an intensification," McNamara replied. "There was some very bad weather for an extended period of time, and the result was that there was a very substantial decrease in the number of sorties."

"Then all of a sudden the weather broke. I think that is what has given the appearance of an intensification, whereas there was no intensification."

Bank Cashier Saves The Day

SHELBYVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Cashier Bill Tingle went into action Tuesday when a stranger walked into the People's Bank of Bagdad, Ky., and demanded money.

In short order, Tingle: —Threw a stool at the would-be robber and chased him from the bank.

—Fired three bullets into the tires of the getaway car.

—Caught up with the unarmed man on the outskirts of town and knocked him cold with a gun.

—Held the suspect until state police arrived.

Officers later charged Richard King, 43, of Louisville, with attempted robbery.

Meredith Willson's Wife, 54, Dead

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Rini Zarova Willson, 54, actress and singer and wife of composer Meredith Willson, died Tuesday of sarcoma, a type of cancer. Mrs. Willson, who was born in Russia came to the United States in 1927. She appeared in concerts, radio, nightclubs, motion pictures, the Pacific Opera Company and Hollywood Bowl.

Actress Novak Escapes Crash

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Kim Novak, twice injured in horse-riding and traffic accidents within the past 12 months, apparently escaped uninjured from a collision of her station wagon with another car on Sunset Boulevard.

Miss Novak, 33, refused medical treatment after the accident Tuesday, officers said.

Coffin Collapse Possibility Bared In Murder Trial

FREEHOLD, N.J. (AP) — Dr. Carl Coppolino's defense has suggested that a coffin bearing his alleged victim's remains collapsed "six feet under," causing a fracture in the dead man's windpipe.

Coppolino, 34, is accused of strangling retired Army Lt. Col. William E. Farber, a neighbor, three years ago in suburban Middletown Township. "Did you ever hear a report that the coffin had caved in?" defense attorney F. Lee Bailey asked three prospective jurors during Tuesday's murder trial proceedings.

All three said they had not. Bailey did not elaborate on the possibility of a caved-in coffin, except to say that the prime issue in the young anesthesiologist's trial was whether Farber actually was murdered. "If we don't have a murder victim there is no case," he said.

Ford Opposed To Tax Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan said today a tax increase now would be unwise.

Although this is his own view, Ford said the official position of House Republicans will not be made known until after the 90th Congress convenes Jan. 10.

"We will have to first receive President Johnson's recommendations in his State of the Union and budget messages," Ford said in an interview.

There has been general speculation Johnson will ask the new Congress to increase income taxes in an effort to halt inflation and to reduce the federal deficit.

PCA Loans In Lake States Break Record

Manager R. B. Spink of Production Credit Association of Escanaba attended a management development and director development seminar in East Lansing on Dec. 2, 1966 as part of a continuing program of education sponsored by the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Saint Paul.

Andrew Lampen, FICB president, said PCA's sets a new growth record increasing loans outstanding to farmers and ranchers in North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Michigan by 25 per cent over the year before. Fifty-two PCAs in these four states extended over $800 million of short and intermediate term credit during the past year and presently have over $360 million outstanding. The PCA of Escanaba which serves the entire Upper Peninsula holds $1,500,000 in loans to area farmers.

Lampen said that a substantial increase in the number of loans to new PCA members along with an increase in farmers' needs for capital accounted for the growth.

Four Rotarians Heard By Club

Autobiographies were presented by recent members of the Rotary Club of Escanaba at its meeting at the House of Ludington Tuesday noon. The speakers were Wesley Hansen, Morton Jensen, Robert Krohn and John Romstad.

The program was arranged by Paul Snyder and John Lammer and the meeting was conducted by Isadore Stein, club president.

Truck Plunge Is Fatal To Seven

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Seven Turkish gendarmes soldiers were killed and 57 others injured — 21 seriously — when a military truck they were riding plunged into a ravine, according to reports which reached here Tuesday.
